impossible to suppose for a moment that it might be in the least unfriendly or discourteous. The relations between the two governments has been most corial. It would be very convenient to corial. It would be very convenient to wait until the note is made known in full before venturing any comment on fragmentary and unauthenticated quofragmentary and unauthenticated quotations. The press, at present, more than ever, may do great good if, it directs its efforts to prevent public opinion from being unduly excited and misled. This would be a great help toward accomplishing the earnest wisfles of the Mayican people and their government. Madero and Forces Across From El Paso

EL PASO, April 20.-Francisco I. Madero, accompained by 150 insurgent on the border line and within easy guntroops, appeared opposite the El Paso smelter in the hills today. More than ,000 insurgents have already appeared from the south from an arroyo and are watering their mounts in the Rio Grande. The Juarez federal troops thus far have made no attempt to test the strength of the insurgents. With Madero's ultimatum in the hands of Gen. Juan Navvarro, both federals and insurgents are waiting on their arms for the opening of what promises to be the flercest and most momentous to be the fiercest and most momentous battle of the Mexican revolution.

A dozen mortars and field guns with 750 field cavalry and infantry, and about 300 volunteers, will defend Juarez, while upward of 2.000 insurgents, with two cannon and three field guns are anxiously awaiting the hour of 6 p. m. the time limit set by Madero's ultimatum.

After demanding the surrenders of the time limit set by Madero's ultimatum. After demanding the surrender of Juarez, the insurrectos today sent notices of the expected aftack to Colonel Sharp and Colonel Stever, of the United States consul in Juarez and Mayor Kelly, of El Paso. The insurrectos are taking great pains to see that all noncombatants and Americans get to a place of safety before the battle starts.

Meanwhile the father of Francisco Madero is hastening overland to talk peace, but the insurrecto leafers say the men do not want peace. Great precaumen do not want peace. Great precau-tions are being taken by the United States city, and county officers to keep Americans fro mthe danger zone.

Culberson Offers Resolution Against

in the Senate this afternoon a resolution which was at his request referred to the Committee on Fereign Relations, opposing intervention in Mexico.

The resolution was to the effect that intervention would be without justification and contrary to the American policy of non-interference in the affairs of other nations. It expressed the view that this Government should see that neutrality was observed and should protect life and property of citizens along the border in this country, but that the rights of citizens in Mexico were those of neutrals in belligerent territory.

Stone Urges Senate to Empower President to Take Whatever Means Necessary to Take Care of Life and Property in Mexico.

In a remarkable speech on the Mexi-can situation delivered in the Senate forcer." this afternoon by Senator Stone of Missourl it was urged that the President be authorized to take whatever steps be necessary for the protection of American citizens on the border and in Mex-MEMBERS CONFER ico, even if to do this it might be necessary to send troops into Mexican territory.

Senator Stone called the shooting of Subcommittee on Foreign Affairs Americans at Douglas, Ariz., a "bloody outrage." He said the President should have whatever authority necessary to prevent repetition of it. He urged the adoption of his resolution for an investigation into the Mexican situation by the Committee on Foreign Relations. He discussed the Mexican internal situation at length, said he had seen the correspondence in the hands of the President and he emphatically denied that Japan was in any way involved in the Mexican troubles. He expressed be lief that some great and sinister interests were trying to foment trouble be tween this nation and Japan.

Throughout, Senator Stone's speed was friendly to the course the Presi dent has taken with respect to Mexico. He justified the course Mr. Taft has

Limit to Their Rights. Alluding to the Agua Prieta and Douglas incidents, Senator Stone said: "Mr. President, I presume these Mexican people have an inherent right to fight if they want to fight, and, generally speaking, to fight wherever they Awaiting Big Battle please on Mexican soil, but I deny that they have any shadow of right to deliberately enter into a furious conflict cities, thus unavoidably and imminently endangering the lives and property of American citizens. It should be a rule incorporated in the law of nations, if respect always due a neutral sovereign -that a zone of safety should be estab lished and observed, within which the belligerents should not engage in battle. But the President's restraint in the face of the exasperating circumstances I have recounted illustrates his judicial temperament, and perhaps shows that he acted more wisely than my suggestion would imply he might constitutionally have acted. But, without stopping to quibble about that or about any other minor consideration, we face the fact cause the Congress is in session, no caus the Congress is in session, no doubt the President thinks he has already gone as far as he should go without Congressional sanction and authorous consideration and con lished and observed, within which the ready gone as far as he should go with-out Congressions! sanction and author-ity, and in that he may be fundament-ally right. The question, Mr. Presi-dent, is now up to Congress. What are we going to do about it? I have pre-sented the pending resolution directing the Committee on Foreign Relations to make speedy inquiry.

Nevertheless, I am go-Intervention Step ing to say, whether I do right or wrong in saying it, that the Congress should at once and without delay Senator Culberson of Texas introduced the Senate this afternoon a resolution which was at his request referred to the Committee on Ferreign Paletions. Japanese Relations. As to Japanese relations, Senator

Stone said: "As a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations, I was invited by the President, as were other members of that committee, and also members of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, to examine the diplomatic correfairs, to examine the diplomatic correspondence had between the State Department and American officials in Mexico, and between the State Department and the official authorities of Mexico, and all other papers and documents relations to the present disturbance in that country. I scrutinized these documents with the utmost care, and in addition to that I talked with the President at considerable length respecting the Mexican situation, and I wish to state in the most positive terms that there was not a word in this voluminous correspondence which indicated even remotely that Japan had aught to do with the troubles of Mexico, or that Japan was seeking any concesaught to do with the troubles of Mexico, or that Japan was seeking any concession from or alliance with Mexico, or that Japan was seeking any concession from or alliance with Mexico, Moreover, I violate no confidence in saying that the President assured me in the most positive terms that he had no information whatever connecting Japan with Mexican affairs, and that he regarded the newspaper stories to the contrary as the purest of fabrications. I cannot escape the bellef that there is some powerful interest behind this activity, bent upon promoting ends most monstrous and criminal. This Government maintains a small army of detectives and inspectors of many of whom have little to do, and much of that little mischlevous, might be better employed than they now are if they should be detailed to discover and unmask this conspiracy against the peace of conspiracy against the peace of tions."

Justifies Taft's Action. Senator Stone described the condition of anarchy in Mexico, and then justified the President. He said:

"The disorder incident to it is great that in several States there is no it is not by fair interpretation already so—a rule founded on high and just considerations of humanity and on the disturbances sweeping over the country. In some sections the conditions border upon absolute inanchy, and lives and property are at the merry of roving bands of lawiess men. In many of the cities and states of Mexico there is a strong anti-American feeling, and frequent strong anti-American feeling, and frequent expressions of grave apprehension on the part of Americans have come to our State Department that the Mexican government would be mable to protect American ditizens against hostile and victous elements in case of an uprising against them. Demonstrations of hostility against Americans have been made on several occasions and at different points.

Thre are thousands of Americans scattered over the Mexican Republic, engaged in numerous employments and without means of self-defense. On several occasions hands of armed men have taken possession of construction camps and forcibly appropriated arms, commissaries, life stock wagons, and so forth, belonging to the contractors, and have taken forcible possession of and used the fars and railroad tracks employed by contractors in the necessary prosecution of their work. They have threatened the lives of Americans and of Mexicans employed as workmen, and different points.

This summary is sufficient to afford a reasonably clear understanding of conditions in Mexico, and discloses the situation which confronted the President during the month of March. Such facts as I have detailed, and others of like import were brought home daily to the import, were brought home daily to the attention of the President and his advisers. It was in view of this situation the President ordered a section of the army, comprising about 20,000 men, to the Mexican border,

NEW YORK, April 20.—Immediately are held in favor for investment buy-ollowing the opening there was a disfollowing the opening there was a disposition to make free with the list on the part of the bears, the situation in Missouri Pacific causing hope that they might succeed, but when it became known that Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank and admittedly a Standard Oil representative, would also go on the board and on the board of the Iron Mountain road, the question of trouble for the Goulds was eliminated and th bears decided that it would be rather wise to withdraw selling orders and do a little covering. Prices acted just in keeping with this movement and quickly steadied, recovering the earlier losses and slight additional gains. The bears tried to make some headway with the Mexican situation as a basis for a few sales, but they were not able to do it.

Money continues extremely easy, and plentiful, and, if one may judge by the increase in the proportion of the reserve of the Bank of England from 43.60 per cent last week, to 47.70 this week, it is just about as easy on the other side. That the bank should carry such heavy reserves is but an indication of the duli-ness in business, and in security specu-lation. Bankers all over the country are making an earnest effort to place their cash in short term notes; in good bonds that are readily marketable when her ways the cash is wanted and in other ways making the best use possible of their funds, pending re-employment in busi-

Gas Stock at Another New High-Investors Buying Freely.

Local securities were again active, although the volume of trading was not as heavy as on Wednesday. In the matter of strength, however, the list gained a little, especially Washington Gas, which seems to be-making an impression on investors, the income from investments being materially greater than from almost anything else on the list. Investors who would not look at it at 80 are anxious for it above that old peg, where it stood so long, fluctuating an wighth either way. The stock sold to its highest recorded price this noon when it opened at 82% and closed at 83-practically 85.20, for stock is selling ex-dividend, the books having closed a day or two ago.

Lanston was the active typesetter today, and at one price 94%. A little Mergy was sold at steady prices. Washington and Virginia common was quite active, at one price, 28, the high on the movement.

Light sales of Capital Traction were nade at 126% with an odd share at 125%. In the bank stock list 100 shares of Provident Savings brought 10%, the highest price, and 4 over general quotations a few weks ago, National Metropolitan was strong at 227. Listrict 131%, and Riggs National 592%. In the bond list there was fairly good demend, Norfolk and Washington Steamboat i's firm at 100@100% the high: Potomac Consolidated 5's at 39%, and Traction 5's at 112.
